Information about KingsStock Music Festival

KingsStock is now in its 4th official year, and just keeps getting better – even if we do say so ourselves!

KingsStock loves creativity, so we aim to provide a place where people's creativity – inspired by a life of faith -can be expressed and enjoyed.

25/06/13

In 2013 KingsStock moves to a new venue (Burleigh Hill Farm near St. Ives) and say good bye to Lodge Farm Cottage our original home. The new venue is bigger and better allowing us to grow and fit in loads more of you fun loving festival fans.

The new site also boasts a purpose built campsite with electrical hookups, water, toilets, and even a shower block, all surrounded by trees nestled in the gentle hills of the Cambridgeshire countryside. Our new venue allows for improved stages for our performers and the Acoustic Orchard Stage is evolving into the Woodland Stage. This will be more than just a stage, it will be the place you can chill, eat, dance, create, and let you hair down under a canopy of leaves and lights.

James Stevens, director of Heaven Sent Creativity and founder of KingsStock Music Festival, had a vision for this festival many moons ago, and has been living and dreaming it ever since.

“Creativity is such an important part of life yet is hardly ever expressed in most people’s 9 to 5 existences. KingsStock provides a platform for people’s suppressed creativity to come bounding out!”

The festival brings together people from all different walks of life, many of them share a Christian faith, others do not, but all are welcome to come and enjoy some of the best up and coming Christian musicians and artists from across the U.K. and beyond.
